

25X1A

For the Record

South Florida continued to buzz with military activity as the United States kept a close watch on activities in Cuba.

* * *

Washington reporters were told that news of the Cuban crisis was being dealt out by the administration in a way calculated to make public information a "weapon" in the conflict. The Defense Department placed curbs on reporters' contacts with various officials.

* * *

President and Mrs. Kennedy are building a ranch-type house on Rattlesnake Mountain in the hunt country of Virginia. The land cost an estimated $26,000. The presidential family has been renting the Glen Ora estate in the same area.

* * *

Gary Powers, the U-2 pilot who spent nine months in a Soviet prison after his plane was forced down over that country, no longer is employed by the Central Intelligence Agency. The CIA refused to give any details.